

Oracle, uniform and confident-wrong controls check score and reliability behavior. They do not establish deployment calibration or universal robustness.